

Deb Rhymer Band

SOULFUL, WEST COAST BLUES

Don't Wait Up is the new ten song recording from singer/songwriter Deb Rhymer. Deb struts the blues with a sultry, uptown West Coast sound. Drawing on the classics, from the heyday of the Chicago shouters to the strong song writing women of today's northwest blues scene, Deb delivers a funky, soulful, and sophisticated blues brew.

Following up her well-received first album of covers, Deb decided it was time to get serious about writing her own material for this new release. Backed by a top notch band that includes Kelly Fawcett (guitar), Andy Graffiti (drums) and Clayton O'Howe (bass) and in collaboration with some of her community's strongest writers and players, she got some fine results. Six original tunes and four classic covers make this a tasty platter of heartfelt blues. From rocking to swinging, from tough to tender, there's plenty here to please your ears.
